ABOUT ME

Hi, I'm Moya and I'm a front-end web developer. Over the past year, I've been working with small businesses to refresh their websites and get them noticed online. Though I love working with these clients one-on-one, I am hungry for the opportunity to sink my teeth into larger projects with a smart and passionate team.

HIGHLIGHTS

Moya Miller Development + Design, 2014-Present

Partner with small businesses and startups to improve their online presence through content strategy, design and development. All websites I build are beautiful, semantic, responsive, easy-to-update and implement SEO best practices.

Weber Shandwick, 2010-2014

Account lead and digital strategist on several global CPG campaigns overseeing content development, campaign activations and partnerships

EDUCATION

HackerYou, Sept-Nov 2014

Nine weeks intensive bootcamp improving my front-end web development skills, with a personal focus on Javascript and incorporating dev tools like Sass, Grunt and Git.

HackerYou, Sept-Nov 2012

Part-time front-end web development course with a focus on HTML, CSS and responsive design.

Western University, Honors Bachelor of Arts, 2006-2010

Honors degree in media and communications studies with a focus on web communications and writing.

VOLUNTEER

Ladies Learning Code, Sept 2014-Present

Mentor for workshops, such as Intro to HTML and CSS, Intro to Responsive Design and Intro to Wordpress.
